

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

April 23, 2020 – XYZ Professionals, a consulting and placement firm in Las Vegas, NV, is pleased to announce the launch of its new Remote Consulting Team.

The Remote Consulting Team will deploy the latest digital technology to reach new clients and service current clients remotely, while continuing to provide the highest caliber of professional services for which we are known.

The formation of the Remote Consulting Team will allow XYZ Professionals to protect the health of clients and employees, while addressing business needs to complete work remotely. Many businesses today find an urgent need for capable, professional support during the current health crisis and changing economic climate. XYZ Professionals has joined Upwork, a leading platform that allows work to be contracted, tracked, and managed online. Their efficient communications interface facilitates remote work, ensuring high quality and client satisfaction.

Bruce Isaacson, Principal of XYZ Professionals, says, “I am heartened by this opportunity to support clients remotely using modern technology. These services are in high demand right now, and the team is ready to help clients succeed in this time of uncertainty.”

About XYZ Professionals:

The company behind XYZ Professionals has been operating for over 20 years. You need competent professional services and talent, and XYZ Professionals provides the best. Whether you need accounting, finance, information technology, administration, or operations, we know how to make your business shine. The executives at XYZ Professionals have over 50 years' experience in management, recruiting, finance, and consulting. When you work with us, you tap directly into that experience, and you will find we offer the best in consulting and placement.

To learn more about our services, please contact Bruce or Lynn (see below).

You can also find us online at www.XYZProfessionals.com or on Upwork!